After graduation from Helix, I went to Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio and graduated with a BA in political science. I went to work in the advertising / marketing / public relations field. I ran a business to business advertising agency with an international clientele in the Detroit, Michigan area. I spent a year in London in 1995, then moved back to Coronado, California in 1996. I now have been married to Jerry Newmin for the last 16 years and we live full time in southwest Florida. Jerry is CEO of MultiCell Technologies, Inc., a struggling R&D biomedical/pharmaceutical company, where I have been part time investor relations person. I also am an artist and photographer with a Fine Art America web site at <http://barbara-corbett.artistwebsites.com>.
