Rather than go into excruciating detail about all of my "accomplishments" (which are probably similar to all of yours), I will share the "Cliff's Notes Version" and concentrate on sharing how the last fifty years have shaped my life into who I am now.

Immediately after graduation, I began taking summer classes at Grossmont College and graduated in 1967. I have been happily married to my husband, Leonard, since 1968. We have two children and four grandchildren. We are blessed that they all live in the area and we enjoy being involved in their activities. I was a stay-at-home mom until our kids went away to college. After that, I was privileged to have a wonderful career in the administrative office of one of our local school districts.

I spend a good deal of time being involved in volunteer activities at my church: knitting prayer shawls, quilting church decor, serving as a Deacon, and until recently, serving as the Wedding Coordinator.

I had life-changing surgery 13 years ago, and since then I have enjoyed the new opportunities that has provided. Len and I love to travel, whether it's an impromptu road trip to the coast or a trans-Atlantic cruise, we are always up for an adventure!

Since my retirement from the school district, I have been working on checking things off my "Bucket List": Take piano lessons--check! Make (and actually finish!) a quilt--check! Participate in a 5K: check--three times! There are still several items yet to be accomplished and I'm excited to see what the future has in store.
