After attending SDSU, I worked for some seventeen years as a Social Worker with Family Services and Child Protective Services. During that time I was married, divorced, obtained an MS in communications, and an MSW. In 1984, I attended San Francisco Theological Seminary, obtaining my M.Div. in 1987. I accepted a call to Associate Pastor for Christian Education and Family Ministry at First Presbyterian Church in White Bear Lake, Minnesota. Spent 13 years there, then accepted a call for the same position at First Presbyterian, Medford, Oregon. I retired January, 2012, and continue working at various interim ministry opportunities in Oregon as they come.

My family is still in San Diego, so I spend a lot of time on Interstate Hwy 5 driving between Medford and San Diego several times a year. I have enjoyed being an aunt and great aunt. I'm still learning how to be retired – enjoying the life I've found in Medford which includes playing with good friends, and involvement with local community projects. A good book is a great treat to me; my miniature poodle, Andre, is a sweet companion; swimming three times a week is invigorating; and playing at writing the great American novel keeps me entertained!!
