Our Children are now in their forties. Christopher is still our professional vagabond. He lives all over the world teaching English, Russian, German and Spanish. He was in Hanoi for the past ten years and is currently living in India. He also works for Unicef, editing reports to the United Nations.

Peter received his Ph.D. in bioengineering and computer science. He lives in Los Altos and works for a biotech company in Silicon Valley. He developed the software for a new test to determine which embryos are viable for in vitro fertilization. It just received FDA approval. He has one son, Spencer, who is 8 years old.

Amiee is married to an attorney, lives in San Francisco, and has two sons, Erik, 5 and Sammy, 3. She works for the city of San Francisco as a senior manager for the Office of Emergency Services. She is also their liaison to Sacramento and Washington, D.C.

In the past fifty years I worked for the University of California in the library at the San Diego and Santa Barbara campuses. I retired in 2000. We lived in Santa Barbara for 28 years and moved to Petaluma in 2001 when my husband was hired there as Fire Chief. He is now retired. We still have our house in Santa Barbara and go back and forth every few months. In 1986, as a member of the Junior League, I helped develop an Anger Management Program for the fourth grade classes that went countywide in Santa Barbara. I was also on the Board of Trustees for Shelter Services for Women and on every PTA Board for 18 years while my children were in school.

My husband, Chris, is running for re-election to a second term on the City Council in Petaluma. I still volunteer for several non-profits. We just returned from a four week road trip, visiting national parks in northwestern Canada and the U.S. It was so much fun!

I can't believe it's been 50 years since we graduated!!!
